

To the Elected Officials,

A reminder, you were elected by the "people" to serve and protect the "people". You were not elected by industry, big business, or marketing firms, these institutions cannot vote.

If the Telemarketers want to "pay" for MY monthly telephone service then they may have the right to call me. However, they do not pay for my service, I do, and I have the "right" to deny marketers/solicitors from harrassing me. And lets be perfectly clear, this is harrassment.

If the National law wants to be ineffective that is your choice, but in New Jersey "WE" the people of New Jersey, have the right to pass as strict a law as the people require to stop the harrassment.

Since when do solicitors and marketers have the right to harrass, pester, and annoy citizens? And what do we need to do, go to court and file complaints to get restraining orders? It is time you listened to the people instead of the lobbyists and big business, make a stand enough is enough.

Does the money really mean more to you then the people?

Sincerely,
Vanessa Murray
